

Originally from Madrid, Spain, Marian is a Latin Grammy nominated studio and FOH engineer, producer, arranger, pianist and guitar player based in Brooklyn, New York.

Graduated Magna Cum Laude from the prestigious Berklee College of Music, dual major in Production & Engineering and Contemporary Writing, Marian paved her way to the heart of the music industry in Boston MA, working with and for great names such as Javier Limón, Jonathan Wyner, Jorge Drexler, George Massenburg, Concha Buika, and many others.

Marian performed in The Latin Grammy Ceremony 2013, playing with infamous singer-songwriter Alejandro Sanz. In 2014 Marian is nominated for her own Latin Grammy for “Best Engineered Album” for her work as recording engineer in “Promesas De Tierra” by Javier Limón.

Today Marian is continuing her professional journey in New York active as an freelance producer/engineer, live sound engineer at the Shapeshifter lab and Bowery Poetry club, and is working with artists such as Jerry Barnes (Roberta Flack, Chaka Khan), Javier Limon (Paco de Lucia, Calamaro, Bebo Valdés), Banot, Yonit Spiegelman, Jacinta Clusellas, Foreign Hues, Shachar Ziv, Juana Aquerreta, and more.

<http://www.mariangvillota.com>